

Professor's Name:	Professor's Email:	Class Title:	Brief Description:	Learning Objective for Service Learning Component of course:	Assessment Techniques:	Social Issues explored:
Lauren Maguire	llmaguir@bhcc.mass.edu	Hospitality Marketing	This course is an examination of the market environment in which a firm operates. Communication principles and their application to sales goals are studied. Effective utilization of techniques and tools of merchandising in hotels, restaurants, and the like are considered.	Learn to create a marketing plan for hospitality product, analyze item cost, profit expectations and pricing, and experience the plan in action including ordering, sales, production and accounting.	Oral Presentation, Research Paper, and Reaction Paper	Hunger and Homelessness and Women and Gender Issues
Mary Beth Butler	bbutler@bhcc.mass.edu	Certified Nurse Aide Practicum	This course consists of a clinical practicum of 21 hours at a skilled nursing facility to fulfill the State Nurse Aide Certification.	Perform basic health skills and procedures of direct patient care on residents at a skilled/chronic care facility, exhibit understanding of residents, demonstrate team building skills, follow oral and written directions, show professionalism, compassion and empathy	Reflection Essays	Education, Health, Elderly, Environment, Multicultural Issues, and Special Needs
Mike Dubson	mdubson@bhcc.mass.edu	College Writing 1	This course emphasizes writing as a process, from planning and drafting through revising and editing. Using personal experience, reading and other sources,	To have students evaluate arguments they agree and disagree with, to have students be able present and defend an argument, and to sensitize students to the	Research and Reaction Papers (students will do 3 argument essays on same-sex marriage)	Health, Children, Family, Women and Gender Issues, Multicultural Issues

			students will write unified, coherent, well-developed essays and practice paraphrasing, summarizing and using sources responsibly.	humanity behind the politics and to encourage political engagement.
Bryan Craven	bcraven@bhcc.mass.edu	HTML and Dream Weaver	Students learn how to design and build complete websites
Richard Hall	profhall@mac.com	Behavioral Science and Human Services	Courses that focus on the theories and skills of counseling, with a focus on chemical dependency, drug abuse, counseling approaches and social inflections.	Develop an understanding of the role of human service agencies, identify gaps in the delivery of human services, identify the initial steps to bridge gaps in services, and to enhance the delivery of services at the CASPAR Shelter of Cambridge.	Oral Presentation and Reaction Paper	Hunger and Homelessness, Health, Mental Health, Addiction Issues
Dr. Shirley Cassara	scassara@bhcc.mass.edu	Principles of Psychology	The plan is to have students of this one section develop a plan and execute it for conducting the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout on Campus for November 15 th .	Students will be able to relate behaviors of smoking to the principles of learning and conditioning and be able to explain the affects of smoking on body and mind.	Journal and Reaction Paper	Education and Health
Mary Beth Barton	mbarton@bhcc.mass.edu	Essentials of Baking	Students learn basic baking techniques	Students will organize the ordering and preparation for the bake, will bake all good necessary for bake, will	Reaction Paper	Hunger and Homelessness organize sales and distribute sale proceeds to charity.

Michelle Schweitzer	mschweitzer@bhcc.mass.edu	ESL	"ESL Goes Green." ESL students will write research essays on environmental issues. They will create energy quizzes to distribute during our Energy Fair.	Writing a research essay using secondary sources, developing an increased awareness of environmental issues and solutions, gaining confidence in speaking about issues and concerns.	Oral Presentation, Research Paper, and Reaction Paper	Environmental
Michael D'Entremont	mdentremont@bhcc.mass.edu	ESL-Academic Writing	Students will do an on-campus recycling project for cans and bottles and will research various environmental topics and give a presentation to the BHCC community.	Students will learn to do research on the internet, will develop awareness of environmental issues, and will improve speaking ability and confidence while discussing environmental issues with the BHCC community.	Oral Presentation, Research Paper, and Reaction Paper	Environmental
Mizuho Arai	marai@bhcc.mass.edu	Principles of Psychology and Abnormal Psychology
Kiruba Murugaiah	kmurugaiah@bhcc.mass.edu	Beginning Algebra	Old MATH095 student will tutor current 095 a minimum of 30 hours this semesters		Reaction Paper	Education
Rebecca Alleyne-Holtzclaw	ralleyne@bhcc.mass.edu	Allied Health: Principles of Clinical Practice, Patient Care Skills, and Health Employment Issues	All courses emphasize principles of effective communication and the importance of accurate knowledge regarding issues affecting	Students will have an opportunity to apply principles of communication and clinical skills learned in class to a community service site, will	Reflective Essay and oral presentation	Education, Health, Women and Gender Issues, and Multicultural Issues

			public health	increase their knowledge and awareness of issues related to HIV/AIDs with an emphasis on communities of color, will have opportunity to participate in blood pressure screening, and will demonstrate the ability to write a reflective essay relating to their community service experiences.
Guixia Yin	gyin@bhcc.mass.edu	College Writing II	Students will write community-based research essays on the following subjects: transferring issues within college campuses, suicidal rates among college students, gas prices, graduation rate at community colleges		Reaction Paper	Education, Environment, Health, Class
Paula K. Velluto	pvelluto@bhcc.mass.edu	Computers Applications and Concepts	"ESL Goes GREEN"- project with ESL and CIT. Students are typing out essays they have written in their ESL classes on environmental issues	Student are more aware of environmental issues and solutions, using computer to research issues, using the computer to provide informational fliers for the project, and experience working in a team on a team project	Research, fliers, posters, reflection paper	Environmental
Pam Schmidt	pschmidt@bhcc.mass.edu	Intro to Human	Covers the historical	Students are able to	Oral power point	Hunger and Homelessness,

		Services	aspects of human services, the requirements and skills of the human service worker, administration and funding of agencies and the dynamics of work.	complete course requirements by volunteering in an advocacy based community setting, students understand advocacy issues by gathering information, reviewing, and analyzing multiple aspects of a problem while performing community service, and students have a working knowledge of human services and community resources through the experience of performing community service.	presentation and a reflection paper	health, elderly, children, family, mental health, women/gender issues, environmental, multicultural issues, immigration
Arthur M. Centanni	acentanni@bhcc.mass.edu	Intro to Criminal Justice	"Cans for Kids" is a partnership with the Department of Youth Services of Lawrence's Day Reporting Center.	Students are feeding families, talking with DYS children, and delivering can foods.	Oral Presentation	Hunger and Homelessness, Children, and Multicultural Issues
William Hoover	whoover@bhcc.mass.edu	Anatomy and Physiology	Students provide Blood Pressure screenings for individuals who attend "Christmas in the City" at the expo center in Boston. Students communicate with individuals who may speak languages other than English. They	Student will learn effective communication skills on Health issues and the economics and social problems and will work with a diverse and multicultural population	Reaction Paper	Education, Health and the importance of blood pressure awareness will convey the importance of regular screenings and the risks associated with high blood pressure. They will also discuss prevention.

Maria Puente	mkpuente@bhcc.mass.edu	Principles of Psychology	This course covers a survey of information and theory. Topics include the brain and behavior, research methods, learning, consciousness, motivation and emotion, human growth and development, personality, abnormal behavior, psychotherapy, social cognition and understanding.	To give students the opportunity to enhance their learning by applying the concepts they learn in the classroom, to explore a career field or type of work that they are interested in, to serve their chosen communities at the same time that they are learning and fulfilling academic requirements, and to make connections between their academic learning and the issues they address in their chosen communities.	Oral Presentation and Reaction Paper	Education, Hunger and Homelessness, Health, Elderly, Children, Family, Mental Health, Women/Gender Issues, Environmental, Arts, Multicultural Issues, Immigration, Special Needs