RECOGNITION AND RECKONING

Empowering Men of Color
through Equity and Cultural Wealth

5th Annual Center for Equity and Cultural Wealth Institute

Re-envisioning our institutions as spaces designed to empower men of color will require a radical and honest reevaluation of who we are and what we do.

This year's Institute will center the cultural wealth of men of color and apply an equity-minded lens to our own institutions. The three-day experience will feature nationally renowned scholars, artists, and activists, including Dr. Ibram X. Kendi and Dr. Pedro Noguera.

June 1 and 2 will be held virtually and provide breakout sessions, workshops, and critical reflection and networking opportunities. June 3 will offer in-person and virtual opportunities to strategize and implement key takeaways from the Institute.

Register now for our June 1-3 Equity and Cultural Wealth Institute with keynote speakers #DrIbram and #PedroANoguera. For more info and to register, visit bhcc.edu/cecw/2022institute
